Confined Space and High Angle Rescue

Our Standby Rescue Services include:

- ▶ Preparing detailed hazard assessments and rescue plans.
- ▶ Implement technical rigging systems and extraction methods.
- ▶ Patient injury assessment and patient packaging and extraction.
- ▶ Supervised confined space entry and pre-entry briefing.
- ▶ Our Standby Rescue Teams are fully certified and ready to assist.
- ▶ Equipped with all the necessary and certified equipment.

We specialize in providing professional and reliable Standby Rescue Teams. They are experienced, both in industrial and municipal environments. Performing confined space and high angle rescue as well as trench and embankment rescue. They have the tools, to be able to assist you not only by conducting rescues, but also in developing written rescue plans for your work site that will meet or exceed legislative requirements.

Occupational Health & Safety legislation states that when working at height or in a confined space, an effective rescue plan is required. "911" is not considered a sufficient rescue plan. This services may not have the training or equipment required to deal with your work site hazards. A specially trained and equipped rescue team that is capable of responding to rescue situations based on your hazards are required.
